Land Acknowledgement

Burn in the Forest 2022 is being held on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Sylix and Ntʼeʔkepmx (pronounced Ng-khla-kap-muhx) peoples. These First Nations have inhabited the interior region of so-called southern British Columbia and across the border into the Northern Cascades of Washington State since time immemorial. They remain stewards of the land in these regions to this day.

Ntʼeʔkepmx territory stretches from (approximately) the Fraser Canyon and Princeton in the south to Cache Creek and Kamloops in the north. In fact, the Ntʼstlatko (meaning “cold water”) river that intersects the BITF 2022 site, also runs through two Ntʼeʔkepmx Reservations belonging to the people of ncʼtetkʷu (the Coldwater Indian Band), before flowing past the town of Merritt and connecting with the Nicola River. The Ntʼeʔkepmx, and the Coldwater Indian Band in particular, have always had a special connection to the Ntʼstlatko and the cultural resources it has provided. So as we celebrate together on these lands and along this river, please do not forget that they have been, and remain, intimately connected to the Indigenous communities that have lived here for millennia.

We have at the foundation of our society the 10 Principles of Burning Man, which are our guide to community and participation in events such as BITF. However, as many of us are uninvited guests on this land, we encourage you all to take respect for the land and its stewards as an 11th principle with which to guide your conduct over the course of BITF and thereafter. We therefore invite you to consider what direct action(s) you can take within your own communities that will help to dismantle colonial oppression and contribute to the empowerment of Indigenous people throughout Turtle Island and beyond.

The 10 Principles of Burning Man

RADICAL INCLUSION Anyone may be a part of the event. We welcome and respect the stranger. No prerequisites exist for participation in our community.

GIFTING Our community is devoted to acts of gift giving. The value of a gift is unconditional. Gifting does not contemplate a return or an exchange for something of equal value. While many people design and offer physical trinkets, gifting is as much about sharing your time and talents in different ways. Some choose to create and install art, others build theme camps to host community campers or gift performance as all-day interactive theatre.

DECOMMODIFICATION In order to preserve the spirit of gifting, our community seeks to create social environments that are unmediated by commercial sponsorships, transactions, or advertising. We stand ready to protect our culture from such exploitation. We resist the substitution of consumption for participatory experience.

RADICAL SELF-RELIANCE The event encourages the individual to discover, exercise and rely on his or her inner resources.

RADICAL SELF-EXPRESSION Radical self-expression arises from the unique gifts of the individual. No one other than the individual or a collaborating group can determine its content. It is offered as a gift to others. In this spirit, the giver should respect the rights and liberties of the recipient.

COMMUNAL EFFORT Our community values creative cooperation and collaboration. We strive to produce, promote and protect social networks, public spaces, works of art, and methods of communication that support such interaction.

CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY We value civil society. Community members who organize events should assume responsibility for public welfare and endeavor to communicate civic responsibilities to participants. They must also assume responsibility for conducting events in accordance with local, state and federal laws.

LEAVING NO TRACE (LNT) Our community respects the environment. We are committed to leaving no physical trace of our activities wherever we gather. We clean up after ourselves and endeavor, whenever possible, to leave such places in a better state than when we found them.

PARTICIPATION Our community is committed to a radically participatory ethic. We believe that transformative change, whether in the individual or in society, can occur only through the medium of deeply personal participation. We achieve being through doing. Everyone is invited to work. Everyone is invited to play. We make the world real through actions that open the heart.

IMMEDIACY Immediate experience is, in many ways, the most important touchstone of value in our culture. We seek to overcome barriers that stand between us and a recognition of our inner selves, the reality of those around us, participation in society, and contact with a natural world exceeding human powers. No idea can substitute for this experience.

Safety

RANGERS If you need help, ask a Ranger! You can find Rangers walking the event in pairs wearing blue BC Rangers t-shirts and carrying radios. They can call on-site medical, fire personnel, security, harm reduction, or Production Team members as needed. You may also find Rangers at Ranger HQ, which is shown on the map. Rangers are burners who volunteer to help out their fellow community members. Some things Rangers help with include: act as a source of information, respond to emergencies and coordinate appropriate resources, help disoriented participants find their way, and mediate disputes.

HARM REDUCTION BITF 2022 will include education, prevention, monitoring, and aftercare services. Although this event is promoted as a family-friendly, drug free event, organisers recognize that some problematic alcohol and/or illicit drug use may be present at the event.

Education, testing, and prevention will be provided by Ask Wellness, which includes an Information table with harm reduction supplies, and confidential FTIR drug testing. Ask Wellness will be open in Centre Camp from 1-4pm and 8-11 pm on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and 1 to 8pm on Saturday.

The Sanctuary will provide 24/7 monitoring and aftercare services, working together with the medical team. On-site peer support services will be confidential, trauma-informed, and anti-oppressive, assisting participants who experience temporary emotional issues, issues related to pre-existing psychological disorders, or temporary issues while in an altered state. Participants at a risk of harm to themselves or others will be evaluated by medical staff and will be referred to offsite resources, depending on the severity of their condition.

MEDICAL SERVICES Paid medical and security staff are on-site 24 hours a day. Access their help by asking a Ranger or Production Team member (someone with a radio is a good bet), or by finding medics at the Medics Station (see the map).

Participants with known, life-threatening medical issues are encouraged to check in with the medical team upon arrival: consider providing a photocopy of your ID and Care Card number, with a brief description of the medical condition, medications and allergies. Information provided will be held confidentially as per privacy laws and destroyed after the event.

BOUNDARIES AND CONSENT Our community aims to provide a respectful space for all participants and consent plays a critical part. BITF can be an overwhelming environment, and we want to ensure that we co-create a safe space for radical self-expression while protecting against harassment and assault. There are also many diverse participants present, and where one person's self-expression and another's boundaries intersect, both parties are responsible for negotiating the interface.

- With respect to anyone's physical person, only an enthusiastic "YES" means YES. Anything less is not consent. Rather than risk confusion, create a space where a "no" is always heard and respected, whatever form it may take. Coercion or emotional manipulation to get a "YES" is NOT consent.
- If the action persists, it may be cause for EXPULSION from the event. Communicate actively and often. Consent to one thing does not imply yes to any another.
- Know your personal boundaries, and be comfortable expressing them. Respect the moment and know that comfort levels differ at different times with different people. Always ask about and respect the boundaries of others, even if you already know that person.
- Be mindful of intoxicants. Remember, under Canadian law, anyone under the influence of intoxicants cannot consent.
- Need help in a situation that involves threatening behaviour, or a sexual assault or domestic violence? Protocols and supports are in place for these situations. Seek assistance from any person with a radio (Ranger or Production Team member), at Ranger HQ, or the Medical Station.
